TO CONTRACTORS, DEALERS IN BUILDING MATERIALS, AND OTHER CAPITALISTS.

ATTENTION is invited to the quarries of the well-known "PORBANDAR STONE" situated in the Aditiana Hill, about eight miles from the Port of Porbandar, from which there is access by sea to all parts of India. The softness, durability and beauty of the best kinds have led to its employment for ornamental architecture, but the supply is practically inexhaustible and easily worked. There is no reason why its cost should not be much diminished and its use greatly extended if the industry is taken up by persons of intelligence and capital.
A good bridged and metalled road is being made and will shortly be completed, between the hill and the creek where the stone is loaded into lighters. It is thence conveyed about a mile to the roadstead, where it is transferred to country craft. The latter boats, when bound for Bombay, can fill up with cotton during the greater part of the season. The quarry-land has been demarcated into thirteen sections corresponding to already existing divisions, and each bearing a name recognized in the local trade. The stone in four of these sections is first class in quality; in two it is second class; in four it is third class; and in three of fourth or lowest class. Even the inferior stone is largely exported to Gujarat in Slabs.
The royalty due to the owner of the quarries, the export duty levied by the State, and all other charges levied by the two aforesaid parties have been consolidated into one charge, which is equivalent to between 6 and 7 rupees per 100 cubic feet.
Rai Shri Pratapbu, the owner, has entrusted the management of her whole immoveable property to the Administrators, subject to the Sanction of Government.
It is but proposed at this early stage to enter into any arrangement for a long term of years, as it may be better for all parties to get a little experience first. Any capitalist who may wish to try the ground is requested to apply for the sole right for twelve months to quarry in one or other of the thirteen sections on such terms for occupancy right as may be agreed on. Any other particulars will as far as possible be given with pleasure by
THE ADMINISTRATOR,
Porbandar State, Kathiawar.
Porbandar, September 15, 1887.

And (b) The removal of the anomaly involved in punishing disobedience to a decree based on Hindoo Matrimonial law by the penalty of imprisonment—it being a penalty which is entirely unknown to that law and is created by a British rule of Civil Procedure.

PRESENTATION TO A DOCTOR.—The countrymen of Dr. B. P. M. DeMello, a medical practitioner in Bombay, offered him a congratulatory address on the occasion of his departure from this city to take up his new post at Mozambique under the Portuguese Government. The address was beautifully illuminated. A gold lancet bearing an inscription was also presented to him in token of their sympathy and gratitude for the services rendered by him to his countrymen at Goa, and during his stay in Bombay. A band was in attendance, and entertained the assembly with lively tunes. Mr. E. B. Cordeiro, in proposing his health, gave a short review of the career of Dr. DeMello, bringing into prominence his successful practice, his intellectual abilities, and the rare gifts of his generous heart, which have endeared him and made his name popular among his friends and countrymen. It was a convival gathering, and the evening was passed very pleasantly, the entertainment having been brought to a close by the band striking up "God Save the Queen."

AN entirely new venture in the direction of co-operative supply stores, but different in the fact that the establishment in question will be open to the world at large, and proposes to supply goods at lower prices than those charged at the stores, is about to be made in London on such a scale as will dwarf all the existing stores and world providers, as well as open up an entirely new channel of intercourse between producer and consumer. A large plot of building land has been acquired in Oxford-street, near the corner of Wardour-street, and there, a block of buildings will be erected, surpassing in magnificence anything of the kind in the metropolis. The buildings will compose a series of handsomely fitted shops, each of which will be let to a manufacturer of produce, who will there sell his goods retail at wholesale prices. A counting-house will be supplied for the whole establishment, which will comprise every possible commodity, and also carts for delivery free, and the projectors will recoup themselves by a charge of 10 per cent. on the profits made by the various tenants in lieu of rent. The scheme has been taken up by a number of trading City firms, and it is understood that several leading manufacturers have already applied for shops.

A CHARGE OF DEFAMATION.

YESTERDAY, Mrs. Mary O'Brien appeared before Mr. Dosabhoy Framji, to answer a charge of defamation preferred against her by Mr. Walter Neil Game, a guard in the service of the G. I. P. Railway Company, and residing at the Byculla Cottages, New Foras Road, Dr. Cline, barrister, appeared for the complainant; and Mr. Burder, of Messrs. Winter and Burder, for the defence.

In his information, the complainant said he knew one Mrs. Mary Anne O'Brien, who lived in one of the Byculla Cottages, and also one Mr. James Arthur Gordon, who in July last lived with the complainant for some days. On the evening of the 17th August 1887 the complainant received from Mr. Gordon a letter, in which was enclosed a copy of a letter written to him (Mr. Gordon) by Mrs. O'Brien. In the letter written by Mrs. O'Brien, the complainant stated that she had used words and expressions defamatory to his character, and calculated to lower him in the estimation of others. The words were: "You cannot expect anything from a pig but a grunt, hence do not expect anything but what you have from Mr. Game. He is a depraved young man; he is not worth your while speaking or writing to. In fact, I am surprised that you, with such good education, should keep company with such a man of Mr. Games' character. He was not brought up, but dragged up. He is only fit to keep company with men of his education and character. So I would advise you not to have anything to do with this uncouth young man." The complainant had written, through his solicitors, a letter to Mrs. O'Brien, calling on her to withdraw her defamatory words and expressions, and to apologize for the same, but she declined to do so.

Before the case was proceeded with, the Magistrate inquired if there were any chance of the parties coming to a settlement.

Dr. Cline said there was no chance of the case being settled out of Court. Mrs. O'Brien had been asked to withdraw her imputations and apologize, but she had declined to do so. The only course, therefore, left to his client was to vindicate his character in a Court of Law. He was, however, willing to withdraw from the case, if Mrs. O'Brien were even now to tender an apology in open Court.

Mr. Burder said the letter complained of was a private communication, and not a soul would have known of it, if the complainant himself had not published it. Mrs. O'Brien had only expressed an opinion of the complainant at his own request.

Dr. Cline, then proceeding with the case, referred to expressions used in Mrs. O'Brien's letter and described them as grossly defamatory and malicious.

After Dr. Cline had concluded and the information had been sworn to by the complainant, the Magistrate said there appeared to be certain reasons for certain diseases, and the monsoon this year was fruitful of cases of defamation. (A laugh.) He did not wish that the case before him should be spun out to any greater length than what was absolutely necessary. Without anticipating the defence his Worship believed the case would fall under the tenth "exception." He had read the whole of the correspondence, from which it appeared that it was a privileged correspondence from one person to another for the protection of that other person's interest. But it must be shown that the imputations had been made bona fide and without malice.

His Worship, addressing Mr. Burder, said that he did not wish to anticipate the defence on the line of cross-examination. He thought Mr. Burder would rely for his defence on the tenth exception of section 499 of the Penal Code. It would no doubt be contended that Mrs. O'Brien's letter was a privileged communication made in the interest of the person to whom it was addressed by way of caution, but it would have to be shown that the expressions used by her were made bona fide and without malice. He had to postpone three important cases to-day to go on with this one, and he would not allow it to run over three or four hearings. If Mr. Burder would confine his cross-examination to the points, his Worship would be in a position to say whether the case should proceed further or not.

Mr. Burder agreed to the suggestion of the Magistrate. He, however, added that in order to show that the conduct of the young man (the complainant) was very irritating, he would have to bring out the causes which had led up to the letter.

In his cross-examination, the complainant said:—I have known Mrs. O'Brien for the past two and a half or three years, and from the first I paid addresses to her daughter. Mrs. O'Brien objected on several occasions strongly to my addressing her daughter, but her daughter encouraged me, and I perseveringly used to meet the daughter without the knowledge of the mother. I have been engaged as a guard since November last. Prior to that, I was a medical apprentice, earning Rs. 20 per month.

Do you consider you can keep a wife on Rs. 20 a month?—No.

What are you earning now?—Rs. 80 per month. Do you consider it very unreasonable that Mrs. O'Brien should have objected to a man earning Rs. 20 paying attentions to her daughter?—I do not. But now I am earning much more.

Mr. Burder said that in view of the preliminary point of malice which the Court was going to consider, he would not at that stage put any more questions to the complainant.

The Magistrate asked if any justification could be shown for the words "he is a depraved young man."

Mr. Burder said that the remark must be taken cum grano salis, as coming from a lady who was very much annoyed and worried by that young man's persistent attentions to her daughter. She had written the letter without intending for a moment that it should be published.

The Magistrate: But "a depraved young man" is a strong term, which it would be well if the lady were to withdraw.

Mr. Burder: I certainly should withdraw it. I think it ought not to have been used.

The Magistrate: If you withdraw the expression, then I should consider there is an end to the case.

The Magistrate said he was glad the expression had been withdrawn, and the case had ended in that way, and a good deal of unnecessary scandal was avoided.

DURING the hearing of a case at the Police Court yesterday the following passage-at-arms took place between Mr. Ryan the Magistrate, and Mr. Hemming the solicitor, representing the defendants in a case of disorderly behaviour arising out of the Moharrum.

The Magistrate was putting a few questions to a witness, when Mr. Hemming, interposing, said:—Sir, I object to your Worship putting leading questions to the witness.

The Magistrate: I am now exercising the functions of a quasi public prosecutor and Judge, and I am eliciting the truth.

Mr. Hemming: It is an impossibility, Sir, for you to appear in a double capacity. However, taking for granted that you prosecute, I cannot allow you to put leading questions, as I would not allow if the public prosecutor were present here.

The Magistrate: The Court has a discretion to put leading questions under certain circumstances, and I will exercise that discretion as representing the Crown here.

Mr. Hemming: The Evidence Act provides that the right may be exercised under sound discretion of the Magistrate.

Magistrate: I conclude I am using a sound discretion. My object is to aim at the truth. Again you must remember that the witness is uneducated and ignorant; men of his class require leading.

Mr. Hemming: That may be so; but fortunately or unfortunately we have no power to legislate. The law is there and we must carry it out.

The Magistrate: Well, Mr. Hemming, I have ruled in the matter and I will carry on the examination as I think proper.

The case was then proceeded with.

ADDITIONAL PASSENGERS BY THE HOMEWARD MAIL.

THE P. and O. Co.'s steamer Velletta, Captain J. Orman, sailed yesterday for London with the Europe mails and the following additional passengers:—For London—Mr. J. Smith. For Suez—Mr. E. G. Chester.

THE American Syndicate concessions have now almost vanished into thin air. The Director of the China Merchants' S. N. Co. has written a letter stating that all the rumours about the Company being concerned in any way with the alleged projects of the Syndicate are utterly false.

CHOLERA appears to be spreading southwards in the Madras Presidency. The Government has warned the Municipalities and Local Boards in the southern provinces of its approach, and directed their attention to the existing regulations as to the sanitary measures to be adopted.

CRICKET IN ENGLAND.

For the first time since 1878, when Gloucestershire, assisted by the three brothers Grace, were in their prime, a southern county comes out with an immeasurably better record than any of the Northerners at the end of the cricket season. The team referred to is, of course, that of Surrey, which has the credit of having defeated in one or other of the engagements every county it has played, the doughty Notts Eleven going down before it on two occasions. This is a feat which any team might well be proud of, and it is all the more creditable seeing that during the last four or five contests Shuter has been handicapped by the absence, through illness and injury, of such a formidable trio as W. E. Roller, Beaumont, and Jones. Out of sixteen matches, the Surrey men have only lost two, whilst two were drawn, their best remembered match being the return at the Oval against the lace county early in August. Up to Saturday last it was a matter of doubt which county would be at the top of the tree; but when Lancashire sustained a decisive defeat at the hands of Yorkshire, Surrey's triumph was assured. The Lancastrians hold second place, and during August the eleven showed better form than ever. They succeeded in bowling over Surrey and Notts very easily, although they found Yorkshire too hard a nut to crack. A severe blow to Lancashire was the loss of the services of A. G. Steel, a splendid all-round cricketer, who played but on one occasion. There is little to choose between Notts and Middlesex. The latter only took the field ten times, but when an analysis is made Notts must be awarded the third place. Twice have the representatives of the Midland county been defeated by Surrey, as already mentioned, and in all probability Yorkshire would have performed the same operation had time permitted last week. In several instances, however, the Notts men have put together remarkably high scores, their 596 against Middlesex at Nottingham being the best of the season, while in other county matches 570 and 515 have been totalled. One of the most gratifying facts in connection with the Yorkshire team is the splendid batting exhibited by the popular Sheffielder, G. Ulyett, who appears to have quite recovered his form, and for the first time during his career he has this year gone in first and carried his bat through the innings. Another matter deserving of observation is the form shown with both bat and ball by the evergreen Tom Emmett. Always an active worker in the field, his analysis, especially considering the hard wickets, reads remarkably well. Arthur Shrewsbury has undoubtedly proved himself to be by far the best professional bat in the kingdom, if not in the world. His performance against Middlesex, when he batted for over ten hours without giving the semblance of a chance, is an exhibition that has probably never been excelled. Middlesex have played four drawn games, two of which were not in their favour. Nevertheless, the present year has seen them in much better form, thanks to the splendid efforts of A. J. Webbe, who on two occasions carried his bat through an innings, scoring 192 against Kent, and 243 against Yorkshire. As to the last-mentioned county, it was not till July that they were seen in good form. Sussex are sixth on the list, but, like Kent, Gloucestershire, and Derbyshire, they have had a bad season. Leaving Derbyshire out of the question, these three counties have only won four matches out of forty between them. Derbyshire have not been victorious in a single engagement, and Surrey succeeded in dismissing them for the smallest score of the season, viz., 42. For Surrey W. W. Read and Key have batted in grand form, but the former fell off a bit towards the end. With regard to the bowling averages, attention must be drawn to the successes of Bowley and Lohmann for Surrey, Attewell for Notts, and Watson and Briggs for Lancashire. It is hoped that the cricket council will issue an authoritative classification of the various counties before the end of another season. We append a table worked out on the percentage of wins obtained, drawn games being counted as half.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 23.

REUTER'S financial telegram of last evening reports no change in the English or French Funds, nor in the quotations for Indian Government Securities, Rupee or Sterling. Bar Silver, according to the same authority, was still worth 44 7-16d. per oz. in London.

An increase of 1 per cent. again in the Bank of England Reserve, bringing it up to 45 per cent. of the Liabilities, is disclosed by the Bank usual weekly Return. The rates of discount of the Bank of England and in the open market remained unchanged.

The weekly shipments of specie to India amounted to £83,000, of which £70,000, was Silver and the rest Gold, all for this port.

In the absence of further news from London regarding General Produce we may assume quotations for the items generally wired to be unaltered.

The Liverpul Cotton market was steady at the close yesterday, and there was no change in prices either of ready stuff or in arrivals. There was less business doing, however, than on the previous day, the total Sales aggregating 10,000 bales; but 1,500 bales of Surats were again taken, and the market for these was firm. The Manchester market is reported to have been firmer though we notice no change in the quotations wired.

In New York ready Mid-Uplands were still 9¼ cents, but the rate for January Futures was 3 points down at 9·29 cents. The new crop Cotton keeps pouring in at the U. S. Ports, and yesterdays Receipts amounted to 99,000 bales against 16,000 bales at the same time last year and 18,000 bales for the year before.

Locally we seem to have had a blank day as far as business in this staple is concerned, for though the market must be called steady as to prices, which we cannot quote lower than yesterday's, not a single transaction has been reported, and enquiry has not been noticeable either from exporters, speculators, or from buyers for local consumption who appear to have retired again for the present.

WHEAT. On the strength of some demand, dealers have put up prices all round to-day, the paucity of supplies making the market very sensitive to anything like bona fide inquiry. Ekdani of both qualities is quoted 2 annas per cwt. dearer at Rs. 4-1-0 and Rs. 4 respectively, and it is reported that sellers have been asking an advance of 4 annas per cwt. for Hard Red, which is also 2 annas dearer for the new crop, other descriptions being unchanged for April-May delivery, though there are native buyers at current rates. Ready Delhi, No. 1 and Red are called 1 anna dealer.

SEEDS. In Rape Seeds there has also been some upward movement, say to the extent of 1 anna per cwt. in old Yellow Cawnpore and Guzerat, and 2 annas in Brown of both kinds, the bareness of stocks enables dealers to wire their pretensions after every small transaction. Seed of the new crop is quoted 1 anna higher excepting Yellow Cawnpore Linseed is neglected, and quotations both for old and new are unchanged. Poppy Seed is 2 annas per cwt. dearer for old, and one anna for new seed.

FREIGHTS continue very quiet, but without any particular change in current quotations. We hear steamer Iran has been berthed for Genoa and Marseilles with about 2,500 tons of cargo for November loading, at 15s. per ton. The Clan Murray steamer has also booked some cargo for Dunkirk at 15s. 6d. per ton, October-November shipment.

Cotton	720	bales.
Wheat	3,510	cwt.
Linseed	2,331	,,
Rapeseed	1,253	,,
Gingelly Seed	1,935	,,
Groundnuts	817	,,

EXCHANGE. Bombay, which got nothing at the Council biddings on Wednesday, had Rs. 8 60,000 Bills allotted at an extra sale yesterday at 1s. 5d., and another 2 lakhs at an advance of 1 32d. on rate. Our market opened firmer to-day, and one Bank which was out as a buyer at 1s. 5 7-32d. for this and next month soon closed. Demand Bills were offered by one Bank at 1s. 5 1-32d. and Telegraphic has been obtainable at the same rate for the beginning of next year, and at 1s. 5d. to the end of this. We call the tone firm at closing, and we quote ready.

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 5 1-32d. per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic	1s. 5 31-32d. ,,
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 5 ¼d. ,,
Credits, 3 months' sight	1s. 5 ¼d. ,,
Francs, 3 months' sight	1 32 ,,

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been quiet but steady at yesterday's quotations of 98¾ for Fours for cash, and 98⅞ for this month's settlement; 4½ per cent. Paper is quoted at 102¾.

SHARES.—The market opened this afternoon with a quiet but rather steady feeling with regard to Millscrip, but sellers afterwards came forward, and a decline, ranging from Rs. 2½ to Rs. 10 per share was established in a number of cases. Other shares are generally, unchanged; but we have to note an advance of Rs. 25 in Bombay, Burma, and of Rs. 2½ in Bank of Bombay.

In morning the judging took place at about 7 o'clock and this evening the hunters were taken over the fences by their owners. There was some good jumping.

The distribution of prizes by H. E. Lord Reay closed the Show, there being no ceremony again.

THE PROPOSED DOG-TAX.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—In common with a number of men who have discussed the subject to-day, I beg to thank you for your article in to-day's paper on the subject of Colonel Wise's proposal about ticketing all dogs. I wrote to your contemporary yesterday and gave some of my experiences. I can give you another—a curious one. Two of my ponies and one horse were bitten by an apparently mad dog. They did not die, but they became sick. I have already shown that all my other animals that were bitten did die. Here is a fact which I cannot explain—because a calf bitten by that dog after the horses were bitten, but on the same day, did die from what was apparently hydrophobia. The Mahomedan community look upon dogs as unclean animals, I believe. So no opposition will be met with from them. I have asked several Parsi gentlemen to-day for their opinions, and they say that the proposition of licensing and registering dogs is good.

I cannot agree with you that "the licence might not yield much." It depends, though, upon what is considered "much." It certainly will yield sufficient to pay men to destroy ownerless dogs and ownerless bitches, and a good deal over.

Since I wrote to the Times of India yesterday I have been informed that the Tanna Police Superintendent has appointed a man to shoot dogs at Bandora and roundabout there. This is much better business than the strychnine poisoning, and I am told the people of Bandora approve of this new move. But what I wish to say is this—that the best thanks of all classes and all castes are due to your paper and to the Times of India for having so thoroughly supported in your leading article the proposals made by Col. Wise; and for having reminded people of the dangers of the horrible curse of hydrophobia so prevalent at Mahim and in Salsette, and in Bombay and in Trombay. We may individually differ about the details of any scheme for eradicating this disease, but we all must, that is all who have had experience of it, agree that it has become imperative for Government to step in and, as far as possible, stamp it out.—Yours, &c.,

THE VACANCY IN THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Since the death of the Hon. Dayaram Jethamal more than half-a-dozen names have been mentioned in connection with the vacancy in the Legislative Council of the Governor of Bombay. May I be permitted to bring prominently to the notice of the Government the name of Rao Bahadur Jugjiwandas Khooshaldas of Surat. He has served under Government as Hazoor Deputy Collector for a number of years in Ahmedabad and Surat, and belongs to a very respectable family, and is a member of a high caste of Hindoos at Surat. Since the demise of the late Syed Ebroos the city of Surat has remained unrepresented in the Legislative Council. In selecting Rao Bahadur Jagjiwandas the Governor of Bombay will do a great favour to the old, but deserving city of Surat—the cradle of British Government in India. Rao Bahadhur Jugjiwandas has been serving as a Municipal Commissioner for many years past in the Surat Municipality, and is at present President of the Municipality at Surat.—Yours, &c.,

THE POONA FINE ART EXHIBITION.

OUR Poona correspondent writes :—

The Governor's prize "for the best picture in oil or water colour by an Amateur Artist" was won by Mrs. Gauntlett of Secunderabad, for a picture entitled "My Butlers' Wife." His Royal Highness the Commander-in-Chief's prize "for the best drawing by a Private Soldier" was won by Corporal C. Aitken, Durham L. I., for the portrait of a child, enlarged from a photograph, apparently a speaking likeness of a bright little boy; but a list of the prize pictures and further particulars will follow.

The arrangements for the opening ceremony had been made in the most effective way by Mr. Tom Le Mesurier, the honorary secretary of the Fine Arts Exhibition, and the scene as His Excellency the Governor stood on the dais with His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught on one hand and Lady Reay on the other, the President, the Hon. Mr. Richey in front, and the members of the Society and visitors around, would have made a striking picture had it been photographs by the instantaneous process.

A RETURN match was played between the above teams on the 17th inst., and resulted in a victory for the former. Appended are the full scores :—

AT a recent meeting of the Chingleput District Board, the question of the insufficiency of their toll revenue for the maintenance of the roads in the district was discussed, and it was resolved that the local Government should be addressed on the subject, with the request that either an allotment might be made to them from the toll revenue of the Madras Municipality, or that a grant from Provincial funds might be passed to them to assist in the upkeep of the roads. The President, accordingly, urged the claim of the Board on the attention of Government on the ground that the cost of the upkeep of the main lines of thoroughfare converging on the Presidency town was, by reason of the great traffic which existed in bricks, sand, and other building material, so great that a very large portion of the available revenue had to be expended in their maintenance, with the result that several of the minor roads in the district had either to be kept up on starvation allowances or abandoned altogether. An application of a similar nature was made in 1875, when the Government declined to accede to the wishes of the Chingleput Board; and, as regards the present request, they are still of the same opinion and have informed the President that, if the toll revenue is found insufficient for the maintenance of the roads in the district, the Board could increase it by the addition of more gates, or, as the tolls are now levied only at half schedule rates, by increasing them, in the case of some or all of the gates, to three-fourths the schedule rates.

A WELL-KNOWN Paris Courrieriste has the following on the novel which no less a personage than the Queen is alleged to have in her desk ready for issue by some favoured publisher, whose name, however, has yet to be revealed :—

Her Majesty Victoria, Queen of the not-very-United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, is like the Presidential fanfare—every year she makes some (literary) progress. From the other side of the Channel we have tremendous puffs to the effect that this crowned blue-stocking is about to publish a novel, written thirty years ago, which the Queen with her own hand, has been constantly correcting and altering. Now that the story is ready for publication, it is going to appear, Great attraction! (sic) The Empress of India thus gives a beautiful and noble example to the literateurs of every country. Young (!) authors who have kept their manuscript in their drawers for thirty years, unable to find publishers, will see that they ought never to be discouraged, and that if success comes late it is all the greater. There is, however, one thing to fear—namely, that sous autres, we poor scribblers, will find it more difficult than ever, to "place" our "copy" when we have as competitors people who write with a sceptre. Where will you find a publisher able to say "No" when the Queen of Madagascar offers him a "naturalist" novel with a preface from the pen of King Makoko?

SIR JOHN WILLOUGHBY and his compagnons de voyage, Captain Grenville Harvey, Mr. C. B. Harvey, and Mr. C. H. V. Hunter, have returned to England safe and sound, with the distinction of having discovered a new and fruitful hunting-ground in Eastern Africa. Hitherto writes Atlas in the World we have heard chiefly of Kilima-Njaro from that youthful traveller, Mr. H. H. Johnston, who recently managed to be captured by the natives at the Cameroons, and it is said, to succeed Sir John Kirk, to whom he affectionately dedicated his book, at Zanzibar; but now Sir John Willoughby and his friends have spent six months in Massai Land, traversed the country of the Usambaras and Ugweno, and shot big game on the slopes of Kilima-Njaro itself. The collection of trophies which they brought home is hardly as comprehensive as those formed in South Central Africa by Messrs. F. C. Selous and Jameson; but it is one of the best ever seen in England, and includes everything, from the elephant to the alligator. The heads of the hartebeeste, redbuck, eland, grantii (rare elsewhere, but plentiful in the Massai country), and grass antelope, which have been already mounted by Mr. Rowland Ward, are all splendid spicimens. Sir John Willoughby should write a book.

A NEW GOSPEL OF CLOTHES.—II.

IN our previous notice we explained in general terms the nature of Dr. Gustave Jaeger's sanitary clothing system. It is based, we pointed out, on the fundamental principle that being animals we should wear clothing made of animal substance. The natural and in fact the only animal substance that fulfils the necessary conditions is wool; and the sanitary advantages of pure animal wool form the basis of Dr. Jaeger's system of clothing. These advantages are thus described in Dr. Jaeger's own words—(1) Wool has a more stimulating effect on the skin than linen or cotton, and consequently promotes its action and exhalation. (2) Wool is much less a heat conductor than linen or cotton, and thus diminishes the withdrawal of animal heat, maintaining a higher temperature throughout the skin and body. (3) Wool when made up into porous material has, owing to its great warmth and porousness, the considerable advantage over linen and cotton that it throws off the exhaled matters in the form of vapour, thus preventing them from turning to water on the skin. Linen and cotton, on the other hand, by reason of their inferior warmth and porousness, cause these exhalations to be converted into water, and this explains why the body, even when freely perspiring or exhaling, remains dry in woollen clothing, while in linen or cotton it becomes wet, as is matter of common experience with all who engage in athletic exercises.

All material manufactured from or adulterated with vegetable fibre (linen and cotton) or silk is injurious to the pores of the body's exhalations which are repressed and turned to water on the skin if at any point underclothing or lining of such material intervene between the body and the outer atmosphere. Linen and cotton are, moreover, rapid conductors of heat, and thus, especially when damp, readily cause a chill. Further, dead vegetable fibre has the same property as living plants of absorbing evil odours, but cannot, as the latter do, assimilate them, and therefore gives them off again under the influence of warmth or damp. It is in view of the importance, not only for active persons, but also for those who lead sedentary lives of maintaining the healthy action of the skin that Dr. Jaeger selects animal wool as the proper substance of his sanitary clothing and bedding, and rejects all linen, cotton and silk, for underclothing, and for linings to coats, &c. The advantages of this material are obvious, as wool, when woven into tissues, possesses, above all textile fabrics, a peculiar power of absorption, and of acting as a non-conductor of heat, preserving an equable temperature of the body. It has the faculty of eliminating from the tissues excess of fat and water, making the flesh firmer, and thus exercising a hardening instead of the softening effect generally ascribed to wool—and rightly.

The exhalations of the body are the means provided by nature for cooling it. The more freely the body exhales or perspires, the more equable will be its temperature, and the more readily will it deal with an excess of heat, whether proceeding from inward or outward causes. Hence wool, while warming the skin in a greater degree, is a better preventive than linen or cotton of overheating of the blood through internal heat. This explains why, when the skin is accustomed to the simulating effect of woollen clothing, it is felt to be less oppressively hot than linen or cotton in summer, causing less perspiration, and is considered more comfortable in the hottest climates. Wool is electrical, while linen and cotton are not, i.e., wool can excite electricity, but will not conduct it. It follows therefore that a body clothed in wool loses less of its animal electricity, while fresh electricity is excited on the surface. The immense superiority of animal wool over any other material for clothing purposes has long been recognized in a general way; but it is the special feature of Dr. Jaeger's dress reform that he proposes to exclude all vegetable materials absolutely as in their nature insanitary and objectionable for clothing purposes. Dr. Jaeger is by no means a mere theorist, or a man possessed of a hobby. He has experimented for years in the most practical fashion, and much of his experience has been gained from the official statistics of the German army. Field Marshal Von Moltke, the first soldier of the day, has allowed Dr. Jaeger to use his illustrious name in general support of the system that he advocates; and the substantial soundness of Dr. Jaeger's views is further officially supported by the general use in the German army of some of the woollen garments that are most strongly recommended. In the Campaign of 1870 every soldier in the German army was supplied inter alia with a sanitary woollen bandage for the stomach; and the value of woollen shirts and woollen coats on service has been officially tested and cannot possibly be overrated. Many of Dr. Jaeger's views will probably be cordially supported by English soldiers for the same reasons that commend themselves to the practical German mind; but the distinctive feature of his system is the thoroughness with which he presses his main point that cotton and linen in all forms must be abandoned as material for clothing. Cotton at present plays so large a part in military clothing that English reformers will find it hard, if not impossible, to persuade the authorities in India to give up "khakee" and to pay more attention to sanitary woollen clothing and bedding for troops on active service. Apart from military considerations. Dr. Jaeger contends that his sanitary woollen clothing system is for the reasons already stated salutary for all persons whose bodies are deficient in animal heat. He contends that with persons who lead sedentary lives the action of the skin is usually defective, and requires the stimulating aid of woollen clothing, which has the effect of eliminating from the tissues the excess of water and fatty matter that is always ready to accumulate in the body when insufficient exercise is taken. Dr. Jaeger also contends as a medical expert that the woollen clothing recommended is highly salutary in the cases of numerous diseases that he specifies. The health of a very large number of persons is specially dependent upon a free action of the skin. All such persons should derive the greatest benefit from clothing in wool. There can be no better protection against heat, cold, wet, electric and other atmospheric influences. It is, therefore, as Dr. Jaeger points out, particularly salutary in climates and conditions of life subject to frequent and sudden changes of temperature, and especially in travelling. The Sanitary Commissioner has recently called attention to the chief cause of fever and sickness amongst British troops in barracks, and has strongly supported the general doctrine of Dr. Jaeger that chills contracted through draughts or cold, damp clothes or bedding, in the tropics specially, dangerous because the exhalations of the body are apt to be suddenly checked, interfering thereby with the circulation of the blood, and thus disturbing the action of the lungs, the liver, the stomach, &c., and setting up inflammation and fever.

These views have importance for all residents in the East, where persons sleep with little covering and with doors and windows wide open. Sudden changes of temperature at night and chill damp wind blowing straight upon sleepers insufficiently protected are special and familiar sources of danger. Dr. Jaeger contends that much of the bodily derangement, to which men, women, and children are liable, may be prevented and cured by avoiding the use of all material of vegetable fibre (linen and cotton or silk) in clothing and bedding, and by the substitution of clothing and bedding of animal wool throughout, so constructed as to afford to the body the maximum of protection from chill and damp, with the minimum of impediment to the escape of the exhalations from the skin.

He points out that these conditions are instinctively felt to be better fulfilled by woollen than by linen or cotton clothing, as shown by the general use of flannel for cricket, boating, tennis, and other athletic exercises likely to cause profuse perspiration.

The reasons are thus given by Dr. Jaeger in his own words :—

The skin certainly exhales through the pores, and if its action be imperfect, as the exhalations are not allowed free egress, fat and water accumulate in the tissues, lowering their functional powers. The flesh which should feel elastic and firm is flabby, and the evil effect on the body is experienced in the form of many disorders which are erroneously considered to be more or less irresistible and ineradicable, such as corpulence, asthma, pulmonary complaints, diseases of the digestive organs, gout, rheumatism, &c., when it is worn under linen or cotton. The unnatural pallor of the skin under the ordinary clothing is due to the stagnation of the surface blood vessels, caused by the repression of the exhalations; under Dr. Jaeger's sanitary woollen clothing the body resumes its natural colour, such as temporarily follows from the stimulus of a cold bath, showing that the blood is freely circulating at the surface.

It is a remarkable fact that the Jews were specially warned in the Mosaic law against wearing garments made of linen and wool mixed. ("Thou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed, neither shall a garment mingled of linen and woollen come upon thee" is the precept of Leviticus, 19, 9. In connection with the same subject Dr. Jaeger has devoted special attention to the general and notorious practice of adulterating wool with cotton. The surest mode of detection is by a microscopical examination. With a thirty fold magnifier we are told the least admixture of cotton and wool can be easily recognised. A second test mentioned by Dr. Jaeger, which any one can apply, is by holding the separated warp and woof to a flame. Pure woollen thread fuses to a shapeless ash before it is consumed, leaving a shapeless ash and extinguishes directly it is removed from the flame. Cotton in linen thread burns steadily on after removal from the flame and the form of the thread is distinctly preserved in the ash.

The extract above-quoted form one of Dr. Jaeger's essays appears to deserve careful attention, as it refers to two points of great importance which are commonly overlooked. If Dr. Jaeger is right, the usual practice of wearing cotton or linen shirts over woollen underclothing is hygienically objectionable as having a softening and enervating effect on the body. If woollen underclothing is worn next to the skin as nine persons out of ten wear it, there ought on sanitary principles to be as little impediment as possible to the free escape of the exhalations from the body. These exhalations are retained and repressed by any intervention of cotton or linen. The unnatural pallor of the skin noticed by Dr. Jaeger is common enough in Europe; but it is far more common amongst European residents in India, and especially in a moist, damp climate like Bombay. If it be true that this pallor is due to the cause described ladies and other persons interested in preserving their complexions will do well to note one of the alleged advantages of wearing wool. And even those to whom their complexion is a matter of minor consideration may way well consider whether the soft warmth of properly woven wool is not the best protection they can adopt against sudden and dangerous changes of temperature.

The Sanitary Woollen Company rightly enough point out that woollen fabrics as they have hitherto been woven are to many persons highly objectionable, irritating the skin, and not allowing sufficiently free escape for the exhalations: besides which they are often heavy and can scarcely be worn in the summer. But sanitary woollen clothing should be such as can be worn in all seasons with freedom from oppressive heat while maintaining the necessary warmth. To procure this desideratum Dr. Jaeger has found it necessary to alter the process of weaving, and to adopt a method which produces a much less closely woven fabric than the ordinary flannel. In appearance and feel the fabric now prepared to give effect to Dr. Jaeger's theories are very similar to spun silk, and most persons will find, if they give them a trial, that they are most agreeable to wear. They are perfectly soft and are guaranteed not to irritate the most delicate skin. They are made of the first and fairest wool, without any admixture of vegetable fabric and free from noxious dyes. The great prevalence of the practice of adulterating woollen fabric with cotton, and the free use of injurious dyes, make this a most important consideration.

THE RETIREMENT OF J. H. E. HART.

THE following is a copy of a letter which has been addressed by H. E. the Governor to Mr. J. H. E. Hart on the occasion of his providing on furlough prior to retirement ;—

MILITARY NEWS.

SINCE the publication of the Army Warrant of 1877, it has been clear that some change in the matter of promotion in the higher ranks was inevitable in the Indian Army also, to keep the two systems in harmony. The most important of them is that the attainment of Colonel's rank is no longer to be a mere question of seniority, but may be gained at a bound, so to speak, by a deserving or fortunate Lieutenant-Colonel. On the other hand, there are provisions for facilitating the retreat of the less distinguished to the Unemployed list; and the circular plainly marks a first step towards the establishment of Colonel as a rank of selection.

THE transfer of Lieutenant the Hon. W. D. Cairns, from the 3rd to the 4th Battalion Rifle Brigade, is cancelled.

THE following officers of the Medical Staff have been placed under orders for duty in the Bengal Presidency :—Brigade-Surgeon Churchill ; Surgeon-Major McNalty ; and Surgeons Mallins, Morgan, Trotter, Hosie and Whaite.

THE following officers have been appointed, direct probationers, to the Indian Staff Corps :—Lieutenants Money and Smith, Shropshire Light Infantry ; Browne, 2nd Battalion, Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers ; Macleod, South Wales Borderers ; and Spankie and Armstrong, South Lancashire Regiment.

THE following postings are ordered :—To 1st Battalions :—Lieutenant Magee, Leinster Regiment ; and Lieutenant MacLaren, King's Own Scottish Borderers ; to 2nd Battlions :—Lieutenant Cureton, Manchester Regiment ; Captain Stopford, Royal Irish Fusiliers ; Lieutenant Bell, Derbyshire Regiment ; Second-Lieutenant Southey, Manchester Regiment ; and Captain Crawford, Royal Irish Regiment.

THE following Royal Artillery officers have been ordered home for the purpose of joining the School of Gunnery at Shoeburyness :—Captain A. Mansel, No. 1 Mountain Battery, 1st Brigade, Eastern Division ; Captain Cotterell, T-1, R. A. ; Captain A. Eardley-Wilmot, Seconded List ; and Captain Manifold, C-1, Southern Division, R. A.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL PALMER has been appointed Commandant, 10th Bengal Infantry, vice Colonel Firth, retired ; Lieutenant-Colonel Swete and Captain Hingston succeed to the appointments of Second-in-Command and Wing Commander, respectively.

COLONEL F. N. BAKER, 2nd Bengal Infantry, who has been in command of the Allahabad Division during the absence of Major-General Sir Thomas Baker, K.C.B., being about to retire from the Service, made over the command on Tuesday to Colonel H. R. B. Worsley, C.B.

THE Collector of Kurnool has laid before the Madras Government, a proposal of the District Board of Kurnool, agreeing to a guarantee of 4 per cent. on the necessary capital required for the construction of a steam tramway from Kurnool town to Dhone the nearest station on the recently opened section of the Bellary-Kistna State Railway, between Guntakal and Nandial. The tramway will be laid along and on the existing road, and is estimated to cost eight lakhs of rupees.

AN application of more than ordinary interest came up before the Madras High Court on Monday. Mr. Kenworthy Brown, Barrister, submitted a petition from one Hannamantha, supported by an affidavit signed by four ryots, before their Lordships, the Chief Justice and Justice Parker, on the Appellate Side of the High Court, to the effect that, at the time of making the revenue collections for Fusli 1295, one Naganada, a Village Munsiff of Kodathany, in the Bellary district, demanded from the ryots the payment of one anna on every rupee on their puttah, for the purpose of paying the usual "mamools" to the Tahsildar of Bellary and the temporary Deputy Collector of Bellary, and that, when the ryots refused to pay the one anna, the Village Munsiff put them in fear, by telling them he would get them punished for committing nuisances, &c. The ryots were, therefore, obliged to pay the money demanded of them. The petitioner, moreover, stated that, in Fusli 1296, the Village Munsiff (first defendant) and his Accountant (second defendant) prevented a complaint being made in the matter, by the ryots, to the Taluk Magistrate and temporary Deputy Magistrate, and that, because of the interference of the two defendants, the Taluk Magistrate and temporary Deputy Magistrate refused to hear the complaint of the ryots. The petitioner prayed that the defendants be dealt with according to law by the High Court, and not by the temporary Deputy Magistrate, as in the latter case the ryots would obtain no redress. Their Lordships, after hearing Counsel, said that no specific allegation had been made against the temporary Deputy Magistrate, and that the person who had complained was not a landholder. The District Magistrate of Bellary had transferred the matter for inquiry before the temporary Deputy Magistrate, and their Lordships saw no reason to interfere. Their Lordships accordingly dismissed the petition.

DR. J. IRVINE, the Army Surgeon-General, who proceeded to England on six months' leave on medical certificate on his return from Burma, arrived in Madras on Tuesday morning, and assumed charge of the office of Surgeon-General, H. M.'s Forces in Madras, from Deputy Surgeon-General T. Tarrant, A. M. D., who will now revert to his substantive appointment of Deputy Surgeon-General, H. M.'s Forces, Bangalore Division ; and Brigade Surgeon F. Fergusson, A. M. D., who was acting for him, will revert to his puckah appointment of Senior Medical Officer, Station Hospital, Bellary.

THE visit of Mr. O'Meara, the dentist, to Cabul to attend the Amir, recalls the former occasion when that potentate was attended by an English dentist. It was during the Rawal Pindi durbar in March 1885, Mr. J. Miller of Calcutta being the operator. The consultations between doctor and patient took place under remarkable surroundings. For some reason best known to himself the Amir always caused Mr. Miller to wait upon him at 12 o'clock at night. Surrounded by several of his officers (to see fair play apparently), in a dimly lit verandah of the house allotted to his use during the durbar, the Amir would call in Mr. Miller to examine his teeth. This was not an easy operation under the circumstances, but the patient conducted himself with great meekness in the dentist's hands, and after two or three consultations Mr. Miller set him right for the time. But his Highness is a gouty subject, and his dental pangs have again broken out with much violence lately. Hence Mr. O'Meara has undertaken the adventurous journey to Cabul, where, as we recently announced, he has arrived safely, and is receiving every hospitality from the Amir.

MOUNTAIN AND SEASHORE IN WICKLOW.

(FROM A LADY CORRESPONDENT.)

BRAY, SEPT. 1.

THE world is so very old and so very small to this modern "tramp abroad" generation that there is nothing left but to follow willy nilly in the footsteps of those who have already made their mark on the sands of time. It is stern necessity and not audacious rivalry that makes us tread the same pathways and climb the same hill sides as our great predecessors, for Columbus and his followers spared no world for us to discover; and from Stanley at the Nile's source to the aspiring Cook's tourist on the summit of the Righi there is no spot now safely hidden away, no terra incognita for the traveller of the future. In truth, there is nothing new under the sun, the age of pioneering is past, and for us late commonplace people there is no banner "Excelsior." We must put up with old scenes repainted, old fashions remade, old dishes reheated, and old tales retold, and plod along in paths made smooth and easy by the feet of many travellers. To the aspiring mind of the world-visiting cockney, this dearth of novelty makes touring slow as a royal progress through the realms of boredom; but to ordinary beings who have no visions of coiffures fashioned from the laurel wreaths of fame, there is always pleasure in things beautiful, whether they are old or new. I think it is a little snobbish to complain that the colors of the rainbow have faded since they were first hoisted in the sky—that the sunlight is fitful and dim, beside the newest form of electric lamp—that the rose petals and fern fronds have no purity nor depth of tone compared with the aniline extracts of the coal mine,—and so when we pooh-pooh the mountains that were great in other eyes than ours—when we despise the hues that were occupied by earlier and cleverer brushes; when we scorn the beauty that was sung by poet lips we go very near tasking the sunshine with dulness, the mountains with being shrunken and the loveliness with having paled before the fierce competition of modern invention. I am not quite so blasé yet; and though Thackeray and Carlyle and Moore have seen and sung the charms of Wicklow scenery—the veil of mist that rises and falls upon the purple hills—the sunshine of the valleys and the rippling of the rivers are not spoiled but are all the sweeter, some for being set to words and melody. Following in their great footsteps, we drove through the rocky valley to Glendalough, the famed resting place of Revin, the saintly but most ungallant Irishman on record, who shewed the world that he was proof against the blue eyed Kathleen's fascinations by tilting her over the edge of the cliff into the still deep waters of the lake below, a course if pursued in these days when we reverence justice more than sanctity, would have earned him the privilege of being, in turn, assisted into eternity by judge and jury, sheriff and hangman and a select assemblage of representatives of the press to see fair play.

It is a most common thing to overstate a case, or overdo a sentiment, to call our house a mansion or our bush a tree; seldom do we call a spade a spade, but whoever named the Rocky Valley did it well. Rocky and lonely, it lies between the greater Sugar Loaf and another hill as barren and desolate, but that here and there is a hut built half into the rock and a patch of garden ground scraped up in a hollow clearing. The valley gradually widens into the plateau that connects the Wicklow mountains, and then begins the ascent of the Long Hill, another instance of accurate nomenclature for it is steep and interminable. About here I began to think the horses were meant to be purely ornamental for we were so often requested to ease them of their human burden by alighting. Hills are no doubt heavy upon horses, and there are several adages to encourage the merciful man to be merciful to his beast, but there is great need of an adage to inculcate that the Irish driver should shew mercy to the panting tourist who comes untrained to him from the Thames valley to this land of sudden hills and hollows. The horses were all that could be wished upon the level and made up for lost time by almost flying past the race course, then by a lonely school house which looked as if its only pupils must be moorfowl; then past the great Vartry hand made lake that sends its water over thirty miles to Dublin, then through Roundwood on the hill to the valley where the pretty river Annamore parts from Avonbeg to turn the mill wheel that so nearly ended the career of Laurence Sterne. Here, the hills divide to give a glimpse of Glendalough bathed in sunlight while all around is shadow, a pretty church, a few cottages and a gaunt overgrown granary make up the little village of Laragh, pronounced as Byron called his Grecian hero. Guarding the opening to this loneliest and most peaceful valley is a castellated military barrack that was planted there in the trying year of, 98, and another sad memento of the time, a little pendant to the ornamental barrack, the small rough head stone that marks where a rebel fell and found a grave.

The barrack is unoccupied and might well be pulled down for it disturbs the quiet of the scene, standing like a trim modern sentinel on guard over the solemn ruins, the tall round lichen covered tower with its background of pine clad hills, the little tower or belfry that caps St. Kevin's high roofed kitchen which stands as firm as ever though its fires have been quenched for centuries,—and the remains of the seven churches that are scattered over the valley. There are two small lakes, the first fringed with willows and waving grasses pours out into a rocky river bed, the other buried in tall hills is weird and gloomy, a very suitable background for the performance of St. Kevin's tragedy. On the face of a precipitous cliff is his bed, his cave to which that patroness of unsuccessful flirts followed him to be spurned to her doom by the cruel hearted Saint. If Irish legends are to be believed, Irish damsels of bygone times must have found the supply of men quite as inadequate as it is now to their requirements, for nothing else could explain the persistence with which the wouldbe hermits Kevin and Senanus were hunted to their lairs by the fascinating girls of the period. Moore tells us that St. Kevin repented, and he hints at a beautiful forgiving ghost hovering over the lake with strains of music. I saw no ghost; perhaps I did not wait long enough, but I saw the spirit of the mountains steal down in a mist cloud and hide the sunshine in the valley, and the ferns on the hillsides and the tower and moss covered crosses in the grave-yard and then I drove away.

On Saturday, we went to the aquatic sports at Sandycove which were advertised to take place in spite of wind or weather. The brave mermen of the Dublin and Sandycove Swimming Clubs who thus defied the elements, were not summarily punished for their temerity. The day was bright and clear, the sea though too choppy for my taste, (I like my waves to be giants if they come at all), seemed to please the competitors and when they approved, spectators had nothing to desire. The costume of the Club before I saw it was described to me as "full University" and I confess I had visions of caps and gowns with floating blue or crimson streamers as worn on debating nights—the reality was a tidy combination jersey, crimson and whites tripes for Sandycove, blue for Dublin. Polo as played in the water differs in general effect from the game at Hurlingham but the rules are much the same. The large India rubber ball floats near you, and you strike it with your hand; if you fail, you are by the force of your own abortive effort unalterably soused and swallow gallons of the briny deep. The games were spirited and that the freest latitude should be allowed in such small matters consistently with the efficient management of the crematorin.

(6.) During the burning of the dead body it is necessary to perform certain religious ceremonies.

(7.) After the body is burnt it is necessary to remove the bones and ashes of the deceased for the purpose of being thrown into a stream of running water. In Bombay they must be thrown into the sea.

(8.) Such removal must take place immediately after the body is burnt.

(9.) There is a religious objection to the dead bodies or their ashes after cremation being touched by persons other than the customers of the deceased.

(10.) The removal of the ashes by persons other than the relatives is not objectionable if such persons are members of the same caste as the deceased.

(11.) The presence of the nearest relatives to see the dead body burnt to ashes is imperative as they have to collect the bones and ashes after the body is burnt and to throw them into the sea.

(12.) There is no objection to the use in the furnace of coal, coke, cowdung, camphor, ghee, resin, and other inflammable substances in addition to or in lieu of wood fuel, provided that the inflameable substances so used are not such as to offend the religious feelings of the Hindus.

(13.) If care is taken that the people employed to clean the place are not from the low castes, I would not insist upon employing any particular caste for the purpose.

(14.) It is by no means necessary to have the burning place open to the sky.

(15.) The dead bodies of children below two years of age are not generally burnt by Hindus nor are the dead bodies of Sanyasis burnt. They are both buried.

(16.) The dead bodies of Hindus suffering from such diseases as small-pox, measles, and leprosy are burnt. The reason for this difference of treatment is a sanitary one. The popular belief is that such diseases are contagious and any fumes rising up from the burning pile, while the body is undergoing cremation, would contaminate the atmosphere and injuriously affect the health of the persons about the place.

(17.) Such of the out castes as do not burn but bury their dead do so more obviously from inhability to provide for the cost of cremation. They would resort to cremation if that could be done at the public expense. The Lingayets are the only class I know who would object to the burying of their dead.

(18.) One important point in connection with the cremation of the Hindu dead to which a religious significance is attached is the fire fetched from home by a relation of the deceased to consign the body to flames. Where the deceased has a relative, he should be allowed to set fire to the pile with fire fetched from home. It is necessary that this home fire should exclusively be the fire with which the body should be set fire to. This is an invariable condition, such a condition as will not in my opinion, be fulfilled if the relative actually set fire to a small portion of fuel placed with the body, and the body subsequently removed to the inner furnace already heated by another fire on the spot as it involves the burning of the body by means of two separate fires, the home fire and the furnace fire obtained on the spot. This should be avoided. The removal of a dead body after it is lighted to another place would involve a religious objection.

1. I am of opinion that a general furnace will only do for unclaimed Hindu corpses, or perhaps for those of the lowest classes. Such a furnace would be too revolting to Hindu ideas to find favor. From the Shudra upwards, no project will, I think, meet with countenance, that does not provide absolutely separate and continuous cremation for each corpse. It would be highly impolitic and impracticable to provide separate apparatus for each caste or class ; and no attempt should be made to humour any prejudices which would claim for each caste or class a separate provision.

2. Again, the improved arrangement should not, for the well-to-do Hindu at all events, be built of masonry. The first experiment had better be made with metallic incinerators, in form like the shell of a flat-bottomed boiler with fire-bars to support the pile of wood-fuel, and the corpse on top, and with a sufficiently tall chimney to carry off the smoke and hot air, and bring in a draft of fresh air to aid combustion. The opening of the flue should be secured by a damper, as in the case of a boiler. The iron plate need not be of any special thickness ;—a ¼ inch plate would be ample. The inside of the incinerator should be lined with fire-brick arching. The first attempt to introduce this (as, indeed, any other) reform should be to allow the rite to be performed, as much as possible, in the manner sanctioned by ancient law and custom. An incinerator such as the one I suggest would admit of cremation proceeding exactly in the customary style, and with all the exclusive and sacred ceremonies considered necessary ; but with this difference only that the pyre and the corpse would not be exposed to the sky and to the view of by-standers during combustion while the cremation would be more decent, economical and expeditious. As a first step this would be no small advance upon the conservative notions of the orthox Hindus, concerning the disposal of the dead iron pillars and iron grates to support the pile were, only a few years back, introduced by the committee of the Burning and Burial Grounds. These it was at one time thought, would be objected to ; but they have now come into vogue, and are indiscriminately used by all classes. Speaking from the analogy of these pillars and grates, I think the incinerators would come to be used likewise, if a number of them were constructed and left in the cremation ground to be optionally resorted to. The great point should be not to assign this or that apparatus to any particular caste or class. If this point is not attended to, feuds on the ground of superiority or precedence will immediately arise between rival castes and factions. If these incinerators are set up in a line in the place where each caste or class, at present by common and tacit consent, selects its own site for cremation purposes. Such caste or class will, without any ado, resort to the incinerator at or nearest to such site. By such an arrangement, all chance of dispute or difficulty will be avoided ; and all objection on the score of promiscuous cremation in one general furnace obviated.

3. When once these metallic incenerators shall have passed muster, it will be time enough to think of building a masonry furnace for the general Hindu public, or to introduce any alterations which experience may show to be desirable so as to conserve heat, and effect further saving in fuel. Such improvements, it may be hoped, will be a work of only a few years hence.

4. The number of the incinerators to be provided at the Queen's Road cremation ground may be, say, twenty, and that at Worlee, say, five ; and at both places a general furnace may be built in fire-brick masonry, in addition, supplied with a separate cage or oven, in which to dispise of unclaimed corpses. Even as regards such corpses, the semblance of isolation of cremation ought not to be kept up, not merely to prevent the minds of the orthodox from being shocked, but to induce the lower and poorer classes to resort to the general furnace. I am not without hope that in process of time, these lower and poorer classes will use the general furnace especially if the advantage of gratuitous fuel is to be thereby secured. Their using the general furnace must result from a blunting of the keenness of ancient and deep rooted prejudices, which the novelty of the proceeding is calculated to set on edge in the first instance.

5. An inducement to the adoption of the improved apparatus ought to be held out in the following manner :—For the cremation of corpses in the general furnace,—Fuel free, for the cremation of corpses—in the incinerator, Fuel at half cost By such an arrangement, the general furnace as well as the incinerators would commend themselves to the acceptance of the Hindu public. Of course, the well to do Hindus will not care to take the fuel at half-cost, so that less-favored persons only will use the incinerator for fuel at half-cost, whilst the absolutely poverty-stricken ones only will, if at all, resort to the gratuitous general furnace.

MR. W. F. MEERS, Officiating Judicial Commissioner of Lower Burma, has recorded some weighty remarks concerning the duty which lies on Appellate Courts of abstaining from undue interference with the decrees of the Courts by which appealed cases have been tried. He says :—Many of the Native Judges know less of the civil procedure than they ought to do : they often forget upon which party the onus lies ; they often frame cumbrous and involved issues, sometimes going beyond the real questions in the suit; they admit much hearsay and irrelevant matter ; but in spite of all this, when they really attempt to master a case, they see what the facts of the dispute really are, and their knowledge of the language and of the national character generally leads them near the truth. The ascertainment of the facts is the really difficult part of every trial. The application of the law is a comparatively easy task. As the Burman Judges gain experience they are more successful in this."

POONA SEPT. 22.

VERY little interest was shewn in this annual show on its opening day, a fact which can only be accounted for by the fact that the popular Club ball came off the same evening. Of course the show derives its importance from the fact that it is one of the extraneous aids to horse breeding in India. So the chief centre of attraction was the class for brood mares, but a visit to this portion of the exhibition showed at once that but little advancement had been made since last year, and an opinion was several times expressed that the system of horse-breeding adopted by Government is yet capable of a vast deal of improvement.

The prize-winners were paraded before His Royal Highness, the Duke of Connaught, in a large paddock. A very handsome stud bred grey mare Zendi by Peeler, 14-2½ and seven years old, won the first prize.

The five months' foal at her feet was the finest specimen of young stock exhibited, and his owner a native, refused three figures for him tnough the offer was repeatedly made. Kirkham a stud bred mare by Rizzio, 13 hands and 3½ inches, aged, was another of the prize winners. She showed but one defect, otherwise as regarded make and size she was a good specimen of her kind.

The general arrangements in classification for the convenience of visitors were admirable. Tomorrow the competitions in jumping and the adjudicating on the fancy class of horses come off, and as these are perhaps the most interesting events of the show there will doubtless be a good attendance.

Appended is the prize list :—

THE experiments made last year in the growth of tobacco in England do not appear to have been a success. A total area planted was only five acres which were divided among twenty-four cultivators. In only twenty instances did the crop come to maturity, and in fourteen of these it was destroyed owing to its defective qualities. In the other six instances £14 was paid as duty to the Exchequer on 232lbs. of manufactured tobacco. It is stated that the experiments will be continued this year.

PROFESSOR SAYCE ON THE PRIMITIVE ARYAN.

ONE of the most interesting papers read at the meetings of the British Association in Manchester was that in the Anthropological Department by Professor A H. Sayce, who battered somewhat ruthlessly the popular notion as to the primitive Aryan. In his paper Professor Sayce confined himself to the study of language, and the evidence to be derived from it as to the history and development of mankind. Some of the more interesting passages of his paper are summarised in the following :—

Language was a characteristic of a community and not of an individual. The neglect of this consideration had introduced no small confusion, not only into philology, but also into ethnology. Englishmen were bound together by a common language ; but the historian and the craniologist would tell us that the blood that ran in our veins was derived from a very various ancestry. Celt and Teuton, Scandinavian and Roman, had struggled together for the mastery in our island since it came within the horizon of history, and in the remoter days, of which history and tradition were silent, archaeology assured us that there were yet other races who fought and mingled together. In the case of intermarriage the racial traits of one member only of the union as a rule, preserved. The physical and moral type of the stronger parent prevailed in the end. While the characteristics of race seemed almost indelible, however, language was as flattering and as variable as the waves of the sea. He could not escape the conclusion that the chief distinctions of race were established long before man acquired language. Indeed it was difficult to believe that man had known how to speak for any very great length of time. On the other hand, the Semitic languages afforded a conspicuous example of languages might remain long unchanged and almost stationary for a long series of generations. He once calculated that from 30,000 to 40,000 years was the utmost limit that could be allowed to man as a speaking animal. While the Asiatic origin of the Semitic languages was beyond dispute, scholars had of late years been coming more and more to the conclusion that Europe was the cradle of the Aryan tongues. Professor Schrader proved that the speakers of the parent Aryan language must not only have lived in a cold climate, but that they must have lived in the stone age, with the skins of wild beasts only to protect them from the rigours of the Winter, and nothing better than stone weapons with which to ward off the attacks of savage animals. The primitive Aryan was acquainted with fire ; he could even sew his skins together by bone needles, and could possibly spin a little with the help of rude spindle wheels ; but beyond that his knowledge of the arts did not seem to have extended. The community to which he belonged was essentially one of pastoral nomads, who changed from season to season their miserable beehive huts of wattled mud in which they lived. They could count at least as far as a hundred ; they believed in a multitude of ghosts and goblins ; they made offerings to the dead, and saw in the bright sky a potent deity. He arrived at the conclusion that the determination of the several racial elements in these islands was particularly difficult on account of the intermixture of population, and nowhere was the difficulty greater than in the case of the Celtic portion of the community. Long before the Roman conquest, the intrusive Aryan Celt had been intermarrying with the older inhabitants of the country, who doubtless belonged to more than one race, the result being that the so-called Celtic race was an amalgamation of races, differing physiologically, but dominated by a common moral and intellectual character. A few years ago it was the fashion to assert that the English people were mainly Teutonic in origin, and that the older British population had been exterminated in the protracted struggle it carried on with the hordes of Anglo-Saxon invaders. The chief argument in favour of that theory was that the language of the Anglo-Saxons contained scarcely any words borrowed from Celtic. This fact admitted of explanation. Roman Britain was a Roman province, and became thoroughly Romanised in language as well as in habits and customs. The inscriptions which had survived from the Roman occupation were nearly all in Latin, there being no trace of a Celtic language or dialect. The languages spoken in Wales, however, and till recently in Cornwall, were Celtic, and not Latin. This was explained by history. The Teutonic invaders stopped when they came to Wales. This was the period when Welsh literature began, but it ceased almost in Wales but in south-western Scotland, to the north of the Roman wall. In the battles fought in the neighbourhood of Carlisle, the rude Celtic tribes of Strathclyde went to the assistance of their more cultured brethren in the south, checking the further progress of the foreigners, and imposing their domination and language upon the population of the district. That explained why it was that Wales spoke Welsh and not Latin, and how it came about that a part of the country which was mostly peopled by Gaelic tribes at the Roman Conquest spoke Cymraig, not Gaelic. The Highland dress was once worn not only in the Scotch Highlands and in Ireland, but also in Wales and in the Celtic parts of Britain, with the exception of Cornwall and Devonshire

THE THEFT OF THE KING OF OUDH'S SEAL.

THE following purports to be a literal translation of a letter addressed, on the 20th of July last, by Prince Mirza Jahan Kadar to his uncle the ex-King of Oudh on the occasion of the late theft of his Majesty's seal from the premises at Garden Reach :—

On Wednesday the 20th Shawal, when I had the honor of paying my respects to your Majesty for the second time, the kind, affectionate and consolatory words of your Majesty towards me, and the orders which your Majesty was pleased to pass for the repairs of the house I live in, together with the stables belonging to the above premises in order to remove the inconveniences felt by me thereby, and also for the payment to me of one-half cost of repairs in advance, created sensations of strong delight, gratification, and anxiety among some of your Majesty's ill-wishers that on the very night (Wednesday night) the box containing the royal seals was stolen, and the thieves managed to make a hole through the wall of my stables, apparently with the intention of exciting your Majesty's anger against me. But strange to say that the above hole was so narrow that it was simply impossible for a man to pass through it, while even a child could hardly get across it. And except the seal box, other articles of silver were not missing ; they are quite as safe in the almirah as ever. And the curious thing about the fact, which is worth enquiring into, is that, on the following morning, I was told that some persons, without referring the matter to your Majesty or to the Agent, broke open the door and entered the room where the seals were kept, and after that the matter was reported to the police. When Mr. Hill, the chief police officer, together with other police officers, came to the scene of the occurrence, he carefully examined the hole from outside as well as from inside the room, and came to the conclusion that the hole had been made from inside the room, for the purpose of throwing suspicion on the outsiders and that the hole had not been made from outside.

All the circumstances of the case clearly prove that the act had been committed from inside the room ; and the breaking of the seal and the opening of the lock, without the fact being intimated to your Majesty or to the Agent, also bear witness to the fact that the seal box was removed, through the front door of the room, which was under-lock and key, and this could not have been the act of a thief, but must have been that of a person who is displeased with the favours and kind and affectionate regards shown towards me by your Majesty. The next day the scene of occurrence was visited by the Agent. The police were ordered to remain there for one whole day and night. Four of my sycos and three sepoys under Daroghu Motawar Ali Khan were arrested and sent to the lock up ; but after due inquiries they were let off. But the proper steps and the necessary measures that ought to have been adopted have not yet been taken. To wise men and to all the residents of Matiya Boorj it is evident that the theft was not committed for the purpose of gaining possession of the quantity of the silver the seal was made of, but the probability that your Majesty might again put the seal in my charge, as your Majesty had previously expressed a desire to that effect, created considerable anxiety among those wicked persons, and consequently led to the removal of the seal box, simply to disturb the peace and break the harmony of your Majesty's mind in your Majesty's state of ill-health and thereby to extort from your Majesty, against your Majesty's wishes an authority to draw your stipend, without the receipt for the same being stamped with the royal seal and signature and thus to obtain their ultimate object.

Now after laying down the facts before your Majesty, which it was my duty to do, I humbly beg to request that your Majesty will be pleased not to feel any anxiety about the matter, or to allow anger and rage, which are likely to injure your impaired health, to hang about your undisturbed mind. For to us the dependents of your Majesty the good health of your Majesty is more valuable than all the riches in the world. The seal was not dearer than the Kingdom which was lost through sheer perfidy and utter negligence on the part of your Majesty's officers of State, then your Majesty patiently suffered the loss. But this time, when the seal has been stolen through the machination of some perfidious persons, the almighty God will himself take revenge.

KATKOFF THE SACRISTAN.

A FRIEND of the late Russian patriot says that Katkoff had a hard struggle to win his great position in the teeth of the proud Russian "classes," for he was a child of the "masses." His father was a pamanar, or sacristan, of the cathedral of Moscow, in which the Czars are crowned. In his boyhood he had a great deal of lofty scorn to undergo from his fellow-scholars in the university, where he was always known by the nickname of "Pamanavics." Even his political colleague Aksakoff, who prided himself on his aristocratic lineage, for a long while looked down contemptuously upon the men of the people. One day, it is said, Katkoff, when preparing a newspaper calendar, set down thirty days to the month of February, whereupon Aksakoff were the following insulting couplet :—

Katkow, ti proklati pamanar,
Ti sportil russkij kalendar!

"Katkoff, thou confounded sacristan, thou hast damaged the Russian kalender." It was not wholly a misfortune, however, for Katkoff's career that he was born under the shadow of the Church. His attendance upon his father brought the bright young lad under the notice of Philaretes, the noble Metropolitan of Moscow, who sent him to the university at his own charge, and as long as he lived took a fatherly interest in his progress.

INDIAN SPORTING NOTES.

THE Horse-breeding Operations Department in Bombay is fully entitled to plume itself on being able to show some results from its working during the official year ending 31st March. Out of 14,600 mares inspected, no fewer than 9,017 were branded as fit for breeding purposes. Which leads to the conclusion that Bombay side mares are superior as a lot to their sistren in the North-West and Punjab—or that the Department is more easily satisfied in Bombay. But as Veterinary Surgeon Grainger bosses the show, this is impossible. The introduction of a system of regimental runs for the young stock is advocated, where they are free until taken up for breaking at the age of four. And this system would pay. For Mr. Grainger points to the number of horses worked as hacks in Bombay as two year-olds and broken down by the premature work. This would appear to be a wasteful system, but the Bombay buggy-walla is not a wasteful man, and if he can get his change out of two-year-olds, how much more then will it profit regiments to keep them till fully developed. Mr. Grainger evidently combines broad minded views on the remount subject with common sense, and is consequently distinctly in advance of his confrères further north.

THE above referred to disappearance of two year-old Government breed stock is in a measure accounted for by the fact that they are taken to the Bombay market and sold as Arabs. This is certainly proof positive of the improvement that has taken place in country-breds, and may account for the theory of Dr. Barroughs' Eclipse being one. But until some stringent measures are passed, the wily Aryan breeder will always sell his two year-old colt as an Arab for Rs. 1,000 instead of patriotically offering him as a country-bred remount for Rs. 250.

EVERYBODY who has raced or loafed round up-country race-courses knows Bewicke, of the 60th, who won his spurs over a country on Percy Vere's Nimblefoot when the regiment was at Agra about ten years ago. Well ; the French have lately been running him in as a German spy. It is impossible to do anything but laugh over the mistake, for an exactly parallel one is found in the arrest by the English police of the French woman who was going to blow up Osborne with two ounces of modelling clay.

THE home correspondent of the Englishman solemnly told us that Maharajah Pertaub Singh had purchased Aintree, third runner in the Derby, to win the coveted Viceroy's Cup at the Calcutta Meeting. The gentle Rajpoot Chief has returned without Aintree attacks of savage animals. The primitive Aryan was acquainted with fire ; he could even sew his skins together by bone needles, and could possibly spin a little with the help of rude spindle wheels ; but beyond that his knowledge of the arts did not seem to have extended. The community to which he belonged was essentially one of pastoral nomads, who changed from season to season their miserable beehive huts of wattled mud in which they lived. They could count at least as far as a hundred ; they believed in a multitude of ghosts and goblins ; they made offerings to the dead, and saw in the bright sky a potent deity. He arrived at the conclusion that the determination of the several racial elements in these islands was particularly difficult on account of the intermixture of population, and nowhere was the difficulty greater than in the case of the Celtic portion of the community. THE HINDOO MARRIAGE LAWS.

AN important meeting of the Pundits and Adhya Pakas of Bengal on the proposed legislative action in regard to child marriage was held at Calcutta on Saturday last. There were some three or four hundred pundits present. Mahamahapadhoya Bhubun Mohun Vidyaratna, the leading pundit of Bengal, presided. The following resolutions were passed unanimously :—

(1.) That this meeting prays to the Almighty Father for long life, peace, and contentment of her Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India for the memorable proclamation, on her assumption to the direct Government of this vast peninsula, not to interfere with her Indian subjects' religion, manners, and customs, &c., and sincerely hopes that this boon will be continued for ever.

Proposed by Pundit Kamakshyanath Tarkabagish, Professor of Philosophy, Sanskrit College, seconded by Pundit Shib Chandra Sarbabhauma, Principal Mulajor, Sanskrit School.

(2.) That this meeting expresses its deep sorrow and regards with serious apprehension the uncalled for interference of foreigners and others in our marriage customs, asking the Government indirectly to interfere with our religious and social affairs, and desiring to see our prevailing customs abolished. By such changes the so-called benefactors pretend to do us good, but this meeting is of opinion that instead of doing us any good they will make our religion and society less pure.

Proposed by Pundit Ajbananda Vidyasagar, B. A., seconded by Srinath Tarkaratna of Midnapore.

(3.) That this meeting humbly begs to remind her Gracious Majesty the Empress and all her representatives here in India of the solemn proclamation of 1858, and prays that if they intend to decide any question connected either with our religion or society, they should take the opinion of real Hindus only, and not of others.

(4.) That this meeting is firmly of opinion that the system of marriage as prevalent in society is in accordance with the dictates of our shastra, and that if deferred marriage be substituted in its place they will clash against our religion.

Proposed by Modhusudan Smritiratna, Professor, Calcutta Sanskrit College, seconded by Mobhusudan Smritiratna of Bhatpara.

(5.) That this meeting is of opinion that the main object of Hindu marriage is spiritual and not self-gratification ; for without marriage no Grishasthe can do any religious work.

Proposed by Mahamahapadhoya Tarini Charun Sherornoni of Vicrampur, seconded by Chandra Sekar Chauramani of Hatibagan.

Pundit Rajkumar Nayaratna and several others having addressed the meeting on the importance of the subject, the proceedings terminated with a vote of thanks to the chair.

BENGAL.

ASSAULT ON AN OFFICER BY LOAFERS.—The Darjeeling News says :—" A few days ago when Mr. Nicholson late 17th Lancers, was returning from Darjeeling, he was set upon by two loafers in a lonely spot within a quarter of a mile of his own residence in Jor-Bungalow. One of them caught Mr. Nicholson's horse, a powerful cob, by the bridle, while the man on the other side made a desperate blow at him, which happily missed him, and caught the pony on the back ; but the spirited cob, not liking this treatment, let out with his fore-foot and caught the man who held his head in the chest, and sent him over the rails, in a very unceremonious style. The fellow had a drop of about 20 feet, and at least 20 more before he could secure a footing. Although taken unawares Mr. Nicholson gave a good account of himself, he blinded the man with the club in no time, but after the pony's head was loose he galloped off, and did not return in the dark to ascertain what became of his assailants."

THE CALCUTTA PROMOS.—The case in the Calcutta Police Court in which Mr. Charles Shave, who was charged by a hackney-carriage driver with refusing to pay his fare of Rs. 3 for 9 hours, was resumed on Wednesday. The brother of the accused deposed to his having hired the complainant's conveyance on Sunday, the 4th instant, for an hour-and-a-half or for two hours, and told the man to come for payment the following day, but unfortunately on that day he received orders with his wife to proceed to Howrah to catch a railway, and he did not see the complainant. In reply to his Worship, complainant persisted in stating that it was the accused and not his brother the witness, who had engaged his conveyance. His Worship dismissed the case and directed complainant to pay Rs. 2 as compensation to the accused, who asked that the same might be placed in the poor box.—Englishman.

FATAL QUARREL OVER A MARRIAGE PROCESSION.—The T. Ramachendrudu was charged at the Vizagapatam Sessions with culpable homicide not amounting to murder, in having caused the death of Ramanna in the following circumstances. It appeared that the younger brother of the prisoner was being married and the prisoner and his friends were desirous of taking the bridegroom in procession in a palanquin. This procession was opposed by the faction to which deceased and others of the Naidu caste belonged. The procession started from prisoner's house and in due course reached the place where the members of the opposing faction took their stand. Here an attempt appears to have been made to stop the procession, and a free fight ensued in the course of which the prisoner, drawing a knife from his belt, stabbed Ramanna. Ramanna was sent to hospital where he died three days afterwards. The knife penetrated the left lung and about three inches of the blade had broken off inside. Prisoner also had to be sent to hospital as he had been severely beaten with sticks. The Sessions Judge found the accused guilty and in circumstances of the case sentenced him to undergo thirty years' rigorous imprisonment.—Mail.

At the Calcutta High Court on Tuesday before the Hon. Justice Morris, sitting in Chambers on the Civil Side of the Court, an application was made which may prove of interest to many interested who are similarly situated. Mr. Garth, in the matter of Haji Vydana Jonas vs. Ahmed Mohamed, put in a petition in which the plaintiff prayed for attachment before judgment of the properties belonging to the defendant on the ground that the latter was disposing of all he was possessed of, and that the delay which would necessarily arise from the institution of a regular suit would deprive him of any chance of executing any judgment he might hereafter obtain. The amount claimed was Rs. 109,867.

Mr. Garth said that such was the case.

His Lordship, on finding that the petition was directed to the "Officiating Chief Justice of Bengal," remarked that he was unable to entertain it, as no such official, to his knowledge, existed at the present time, the "Officiating" Chief Justice of Bengal having by statute ceased to exist on the 22nd of August last (the date the High Court closed for the Puja vacation.)

Mr. Garth regretted that this mistake in the heading of the petition had occurred, and obtained his Lordship's permission to rectify it in the course of the day.

His Lordship then, in reference to the application for attachment before judgment, remarked that he looked upon this as one of the most tyrannical and oppressive things which it was possible to conceive. It was unheard of in England, and his Lordship could hardly conceive any state of affairs under which he should make any order for attachment before judgment. The most his Lordship should do would be to grant the issue of a rule calling on the defendants in such cases to show cause why the order asked for should not be made absolute.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances of (spelt) um of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholera Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is A DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitation.

H. H. THE NIZAM'S STATE RAILWAY.

ADVERTISING AT RAILWAY STATIONS.

THE PROPRIETOR of the Bombay Gazette Press, having leased from the NIZAM'S STATE RAILWAY Company the exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway Stations belonging to the Company, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting notices or advertisements on the lines.

The Cantonment of SECUNDRABAD, as is well known, contains the largest military garrison in India—a garrison comprising over 5,000 British and native troops. Contiguous to it is the Cantonment of BOLARUM, garrisoned by two regiments and one battery of the Hydrabad Contingent, all officered by Europeans. South of Secunderabad, about 4 miles are the suburbs of Hydrabad, containing the Nizam's regular troops, about 5,000 in number, officered mostly by Europeans—besides a large civil population. It would manifestly be advantageous to firms to advertise at the stations on the above railway, the most important of which are SECUNDRABAD, HYDRABAD, GANGAWARUM and TANDUR.

The announcements may be in English or in any of the NATIVE LANGUAGES.

INSURANCE COMPANIES, SHIPPING COMPANIES HOTELKEEPERS, MERCHANTS, TRADERS and others who wish to force their business on the notice of the public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.

There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India. Looking to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two trunk lines of Western India, Native Merchants, Traders, &c., seeing that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcements at Railway Stations an infallible means of extending their business.

Advertisers can select the Stations at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges have been fixed on an extremely moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of the new means now offered of making announcements known to the public.

Placards, according to the taste of Advertisers, may be printed at moderate charges in ENGLISH or any of the NATIVE LANGUAGES at the Bombay Gazette Press. Estimates on application.

RATES.

Board not exceeding 2 feet long and 2 feet broad Re. 1 per month. For every additional square foot annas 2.

Thus a firm exhibiting a board, say 4 square feet, will have the advantage of having their business advertisement read by thousands of Passengers on one station platform for the trifling monthly expenditure of Re. 1. Parties advertising on six Stations or more will be allowed a discount of ten per cent.; on twelve Stations or more, twenty-five per cent.

The boards to be delivered at the Bombay Gazette Office whence they will be sent by the Lessee to the various stations selected by the Advertiser. In the event of the contract terminating, the boards will be brought back to Bombay at the expense and risk of the Advertiser.

Special arrangements for long periods.

CONCENTRATED GUTTÆ VITÆ OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS.

THE alchemists of old spent years in endeavouring to find out the means of transmuting the baser metals into gold, but in vain. It was, however, reserved for a physician of the 19th Century to make a far more valuable discovery in occult science—the result of deep research into the arcana of Nature's mysteries—which is here offered to the world; and the pleasing results of a quarter of a century, during which time this wonderful medicine has been tried in every quarter of the globe, all corroborate the most sanguine of the inventor's hopes. Thousands of voluntary testimonials from grateful patients testify to the fact that from this remarkable tonic alone, new life has been imparted to numbers of debilitated individuals; and it is not too much to say that hundreds of persons are at the present day in full enjoyment of their mental and bodily powers—in thorough good health—who previously were confirmed hypochondriacs, had been given up by the faculty as incurable and left to drag out the remainder of their existence a misery to themselves, and a continual anxiety to their friends.

This great life-reviving medicine gives vitality and strength to the most shattered constitutions. It not only strengthens the system but purifies the blood, and promotes a healthy circulation of the fluids, thus imparting strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. It greatly improves the appetite and restores the digestive powers, whilst for dyspeptic persons it is unrivalled. Those who (from long residence in hot climates) suffer from languor and relaxation, as also all persons going to the East or West Indies, should provide themselves with this important article on health.

Youth and age equally participate in the miraculous effects of this wondrous medicine, for whether the body be debilitated in early life, or sinking under the advance of years, a few doses will speedily afford assurance of returning health, by giving tone to the muscular and nervous systems, and through the organs of digestion, renovating the whole constitution. To the young it affords health, strength, and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility; while to the aged and infirm it assuredly furnishes great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the whole corporeal frame; and although it is not put forward as imparting immortality, it will certainly gild the autumn of declining years, and in all cases, calmly and serenely protract the close of life. For females of all ages, as also for delicate children who cannot take cod-liver oil, the Guttæ Vitæ will be found a great boon—being far superior in its strengthening properties, and at the same time so pleasant to the palate that it can hardly be called a medicine. To married persons, especially, this preparation will prove invaluable, giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and incapacity for exertion. Price, 11s. and 33s., per bottle. The large size contains sufficient for four weeks.

HEAD BROTHERS, LONDON. THE DOG'S HEAD BOTTLING.

THE "BULL DOG'S HEAD" BRAND

(Bass's Ale & Guinness's Stout.)

HEAD BROTHERS, of London, request purchasers of their Bottled Ale and Stout to ask for "THE DOG'S HEAD BRAND" because another and totally distinct Bottler uses the figure of a Bull Dog, and thus two bottlings of entirely different character may both be called "Bull Dog."

The original "Bull Dog" mark is the registered property of HEAD BROTHERS, and their bottling still often goes by that name, but the title of "DOG'S HEAD BRAND" is theirs exclusively and is the only one that is protected by the Injunction of the Lords Justices of England.
